Nisient

Nisient—IoTransit

A global, secure and reliable real-time network to support your digital signage solution.

IoTransit

A global, secure and reliable real-time network to support your digital signage solution.

Nisient's core product, IoTransit, offers you a highly secure encrypted data network for companies who need global scalability along with the tools needed for efficient remote operations, making it the perfect solution for your customers digital signage requirements.

IoTransit enhances your digital signage solution with secure operations and global scalability, extending your existing capabilities and bringing new functionality and performance to what you provide to your customers.

With well over half a million devices visible in a single dashboard, our IoTransit is designed to radically simplify your remote device communications and management while pro-actively optimising how your teams work.

- Massively scalable to many millions of devices
- Triple redundancy and geographic diversity
- Event and data-driven responsiveness
- Secure remote management as if you were on-site
- Automation out of the box
- Fine-grained user action and access control
- Your pathway to quantum security
- White label and simple extensibility

IoTransit takes care of all the data networking and secure communications needs in a solution you can rely upon, lowering your cost and letting you focus on your core competencies to grow your business.

To find out more about how you and your clients can benefit from this groundbreaking technology, get in touch with Nisient at:

enquiries@nisient.com